

EDMONTON MAN SUICIDES IN IMPERIAL HOTEL

G. Arthur Ball, a Well Known Young Man Found Expiring in his Room Last Night With Throat Cut

A desperate case of suicide occurred at the Imperial hotel last night, G. Arthur Ball, a well-known young man of the city, taking his own life in what appeared to be the most deliberate manner.

Frank Goode, proprietor of the Imperial, was the first on the scene and a witness of the man's death agonies. The story given by Mr. Goode to the coroner was to the effect that at 10:30 last night, he heard some one upstairs fall on the floor, and thinking that there was something wrong he rushed up stairs. Coming to Ball's room, which was No. 1 directly over the bar, he found the door locked, and when he rapped, got no reply. Kicking the door open he found the young man, with a terrible cut on his wrist and his throat cut from side to side, lying on the floor, and the bed and carpet literally soaked with blood.

Rushing to the telephone, Mr. Goode called up the coroner, Dr. Braithwaite, who happened at that time to be just leaving his office, and was on the scene in a moment. When the coroner got there the young man was pulseless, but still living. Calling up Dr. McIntosh, the other coroner, they proceeded to sew up the suicide's wounds, but just as they had finished he expired.

The factor with which the terrible deed was done was found on the wash stand a few feet from where the man had fallen.

Young Ball was very well known about the city and had a host of friends here, and when the news of his rash act spread last night, there was a feeling of almost disbelief that such a thing could be true. No cause whatever has been ascribed for Ball taking his own life, and in fact there seemed to be every reason why a man of his stamp should desire to live. His case was one of suicide as clear, however, that there was no room for the slightest doubt as to the cause of his demise.

G. Arthur Ball has been a resident of the west for some four or five years, coming originally from Galt, Ont., where his people lived at the time, and where some of his relations live yet, although his mother is now living in Toronto. He was a graduate of an eastern university, where he passed his examinations as a lawyer, and also studied medicine, having completed two years of his course. He had a love of adventure, and when he came west he joined the mounted police, putting in two years with that body, after which he became connected with the northern fur trade, and put in two years with Nagel & Hyslop, at their northern posts. Last year he was at Fort Smith, and the year before at Fort Norman, where he was in charge of the post. Last fall he came out west to spend the winter with his people, but not very long ago wrote to Mr. Nagel here and said that he wanted to go north again next summer. As Mr. Nagel considered him one of the company's most efficient agents, he was wired to come on, and a month ago, Ball came west again with the idea of going north in the spring. Only a day or two ago he closed up the contract and was to have gone to work in Nagel's Hyslop's warehouse in the city pending the trip north in the spring, on Monday so as to have his time occupied until it was time to go north in May.

He was a graduate of Osgoode Hall and a student of Toronto University. His people were in very good circumstances, and there were no financial difficulties facing him.

CANADIAN NORTHERN WILL TEST EDMONTON COAL

The Firing Qualities of Local Fuel will be Thoroughly Tested on the System. If Satisfactory Large Orders will be Placed at Once

President William Mackenzie of the Canadian Northern stated yesterday afternoon that while his company is now shipping ten cars of coal a day from the Lethbridge mines, they are not doing so from choice and whenever a grade of coal to suit the purpose could be supplied here it would be ready to let a contract for coal enough to feed their whole line. When asked if the Canadian Northern had ever considered mining coal for themselves, he said they would just as soon buy it. While in the city yesterday, Mr. Mackenzie made arrangements for the collection of numerous samples which will be tested, and whatever one if any, comes up to the requirements will be awarded the contract. It is understood that the first order is to be for 20,000 tons.

So far the deepest workings in the Edmonton district are not below the surface seams which outcrop in the river valley beneath the city, but there is known to be coal at a depth of 375 feet and another seam at a depth of 800 feet, and as either of these seams would undoubtedly furnish the kind of coal required, the prize held out by the Canadian Northern will undoubtedly have the effect of inducing some of the Edmonton coal companies to go down to lower levels.

LATE MINISTER LAID TO REST

Montreal, Jan. 25.—Under bright sunlight skies and in a cold bracing air the body of the late Hon. Raymond Prefontaine was laid to rest in Cote Des Neiges cemetery today. The public proceedings began with the firing of seventeen guns on the Champs De Mars in the rear of the city hall where the body of the late minister lay in state.

At St. James' Cathedral where the body was decorated with hanging draperies of mourning for the occasion, a large concourse had gathered before the body was brought within the sacred edifice. Here Archbishop Bruchesi and Bishop Bernard of St. Hyacinthe officiated, assisted by a number of other ecclesiastics. Bishop Bernard received the body and the Archbishop bestowed on it the last blessing of the church.

SERVICE IN LONDON

London, Jan. 25.—Requiem Mass was celebrated in the Westminster cathedral today in memory of Hon. Prefontaine. The admiral, war office and colonial office were all represented at the service. Lord Tweedmouth, First Lord of the Admiralty, personally represented the navy. Lord Strathcona and many other Canadians were present.

MINISTERS ATTENDED

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—Ministers and others whom attendants Prefontaine's funeral at Montreal returned by special train. The funeral was the largest ever seen in Canada, business being practically suspended in Montreal.

EDMONTON'S BIG BONSPIEL

Edmonton's big bonspiel is nearly over. Last night the draws for the Gallagher cup, the Smart trophy and the Consolation games were finished up. The Smart trophy was taken by Smart, of Calgary. He defeated Wize, of Edmonton, in the semi-finals by a score of 9 to 14. Wilson, of In-Edmonton, in the semi-finals by a score of 10 to 12. Wilson and Smart then played off the finals, Smart pulling out ahead.

In the Gallagher cup, Stephenson, of Red Deer, was victorious. He won from Shera, of the Fort, in the semi-finals, and defeated Smart in the finals. The Gallagher cup is played for by the visitors only.

The Edmonton rinks are also playing down in the Edmonton vs. All-Comers' match. Last night Rae won from Campbell, Pearson defeated Studholme, and Ibbotson won from Wize.

A most amusing spectacle last night was a bunch of Fort players in the full dress of native Galicians, playing a rink skipped by A. C. Fraser. The Galicians did not pretend to know anything about the Scotchman's game, and their attempts to play the notion according to their own notion of things were highly amusing to the large crowd of spectators present.

LOCAL

—The Willing Workers of All Saints' Church have decided to hold their annual carnival on the 9th of February at the Thistle Rink.

—A deputation representing the Lord's Day Alliance, and composed of Rev. J. G. Shearer and the ministers of the city waited upon Premier Rutherford and Attorney General Cross yesterday afternoon, and among other things asked that in re-enacting the old territorial laws, the Government should re-enact the law prohibiting the shooting of game on Sunday. The deputation asked also that the Government embody in the new laws a strict law against running street cars on the Sabbath.

—The annual meeting of the Edmonton branch of the Lord's Day Alliance was held last evening in Baptist church. There was not a very large attendance. Geo. Reid presided, and the following officers were elected for 1906: President, J. D. Blaney; vice-presidents, the ministers of all the city churches; secretary, George McLeod; treasurer, H. B. Hull. The executive committee is composed of the ministers together with two members from each church. The annual report showed the finances to be in good condition. The provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta have now separate branches of the alliance, and these two provinces, together with Manitoba and British Columbia, will support a secretary, who will be appointed shortly.

INVESTIGATING NEEDED PUBLIC WORKS

Calgary, Jan. 24.—Hon. W. H. Cushing left this afternoon for the south where he will spend the next few days. He will investigate an application made by the Pass towns for a road around the Frank slide. He will also investigate the water conditions between Macleod and Nanton, which have not been satisfactory. He will spend all the time between now and the session of the Legislature making himself thoroughly acquainted with all parts of Alberta.

BOUNTY FOR WOLVES

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—Representatives of the union of Canadian municipalities had a conference with the law amendment committee of the Legislature today, when the wishes of the union, as expressed in resolutions passed at the convention held at Brandon were discussed. The union's request that the wolf bounty in the province be raised from $1 to $2, was more than met by the committee, the bounty being raised to $3 and a further clause being added to establish a bounty of $10 for timber wolves.

BIG SNOW SLIDES DELAY THE TRAINS

Traffic on C. P. R. Main Line Retarded by Warm Weather in the Mountains

Winnipeg, Jan. 25.—The transcontinental train on the Canadian Pacific, due here at 10:30 yesterday morning, has been cancelled. It had not reached the central division at noon and it is believed that it will not reach Winnipeg till this evening. The cause of this unusual delay is heavy snow slides in the Rockies which have been very bad during the past week. Rail and generally mild conditions have resulted in the precipitation of vast quantities of snow from the higher levels of the ranges, in the locality of Illecetwa 180 miles west of Winnipeg.

C. P. R. AFTER MORE MONEY

Ottawa, Jan. 25.—The Canadian Pacific has raised a new point respecting the manner of computing their subsidy. They maintain that a change in the wording of the statute of 1901 makes it necessary to add the cost of equipment to the cost of the line building to determine the subsidy earned. The point is raised in a claim for subsidy earned by the construction of a branch from the main line near Mooseomin to Pleasant Hills, 136 miles. Deputy Minister Scribner reported that omitting the cost of rolling stock the company had earned a subsidy of $3,200 a mile or a total of $435,200. The company says the cost of $528,176 rolling stock should be added to the cost for this and that they should be paid $264,688 additional subsidy. They asked the Minister of Railways to refer the point to the exchequer court and this has been done.

SIXTEEN MINERS ENTOMBED

Potau, T., Jan. 26.—News has been received here of an explosion in a mine at Witteville. Sixteen miners were entombed.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY OF THE DISASTER

Valencia Missed Entrance to the Straits and Struck during the night. Panic Stricken Crew feared to Trust the Rafts.

Victoria, Jan. 27.—John Segalis, a Greek fireman, who returned on the Lorne, after being transferred from the Topeka, gives the following account of the disaster: "We missed the lights at both Flattery and Carmanah. The vessel struck during my watch. I was below. The time was about 11:50. The lights went out in a few minutes, and we made our way above. The captain had ordered full steam astern, and she backed into deep water, but immediately began to fill. Then orders were given to beach her. The captain did all in his power to quiet the passengers, assuring them that if all remained calm, the probabilities were they could be saved. A lot got excited, and crowded the boats, breaking the davits. Four boats were launched successfully. One of these contained two men who were seen next morning in a cave in the rocks. These men afterwards perished, and I saw their bodies tossed about in the waves. I took a rope and started to swim ashore and got close in, but found rope wasn't long enough. I cut it and swam back to the vessel. Those on board threw me a lifebuoy, and with this I was taken aboard. Excitement subsided as death approached. People, either through the benumbing influence of the cold, or resignation, calmly awaited their end. The captain was broken hearted and refused to fasten a lifebuoy on himself. He declared that if he had a revolver he would shoot himself. How the rafts got away from the vessel is a mystery. Many thought they could not live in the sea, and this is why one of the rafts left with only about half its complement. One lady refused to go, and said good-bye to her husband who left on the raft."

ESCAPED FORMER WRECK.

Victoria, Jan. 27.—Donald Ross, one of the passengers who was drowned on the Valencia, lost his wife on the Clallam when she was wrecked two years ago.

SURVIVORS LANDED.

Port Townsend, Jan. 27.—City of Topeka arrived Friday with twenty-three survivors from the Valencia, embracing eighteen rescued from a raft, and those of the crew who carried the first news of the accident to Captain Benle.

THIRTY-SIX RESCUED.

Victoria, Jan. 27.—A despatch received from Toullet says three more survivors of the Valencia have been found on Turret Island in Barclay Sound. Another is lost in the woods, but may yet be found. This makes thirty-six survivors as follows:

WILL MAKE TRANSPORTATION TEST

Winnipeg Tribune: The C. P. R. is shortly to be subjected to a big transportation test by the British government which will tax its energies to the utmost.

It is well known that Britain's interests in Esquimaux, so far as transportation is concerned, has been handed over to the Dominion government. At present, therefore, there are no British governmental troops on the Pacific coast. In consequence of the new alliance with Japan, in which both nations pledge themselves to support the other in case of an attack even though it be single-handed, the British government has decided to discover in just how little time it could send a considerable body of men from the shores of Great Britain to Queen Charlotte Islands, which lie to the north of Vancouver Island. Up to the present the plan has been closely guarded in the admiralty.

The scheme is to call upon the Canadian Pacific Railway to transport 10,000 marines and sailors, with boats and all equipment, from England to Vancouver and thence by coasting vessels to Queen Charlotte Islands. This will involve the chartering of extra vessels and the running of about 20 trains, each loaded with 500 men and camp equipment, across the continent. The experiment will take place in about six months.

As the terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific will be on the coast somewhere inside the Charlotte group of islands they will assume a strategic value of great importance.

CANADA'S SOLDIERS

The militia authorities will train about 45,000 men during the present year. The establishment will consist of 90,624 infantry of all ranks; 6,325 cavalry; 5,135 artillery; 780 engineers; 185 guides; 1,166 army service corps; 1,558 army medical corps and 90 signal corps. This a total of 44,981 of the volunteer militia, which will constitute the training establishment for all the provinces.

The number is slightly below what the force was last year on paper though it is better balanced and more effective. The reduction is due to placing on the reserve the supernumerary officers and non-commissioned officers who constitute what Lord Dunsford called the second line. It was found that a double set of officers for the various arms of the service did not give good results, so the officers and men have been fixed at proper relative proportions. The increased effectiveness of the militia as a whole is shown by the fact that while its number is slightly less owing to the reduction of officers, the number of units is greater by six batteries of infantry, two regiments of infantry and two of cavalry.

There is an increase of permanent force from 1,600 to 4,671. This is for the purpose of providing garrisons for Halifax and Esquimaux.

VERMILION PROGRESSING

Free Press: H. Bowtell, of Vermilion, Sask., land guide and emigration agent, was in the city yesterday, in consultation with the commissioner of immigration. Mr. Bowtell is engaged in work in the immense district between Saskatoon and Edmonton, into which it is expected that thousands of immigrants will pour next season. The particular region in which he is especially interested is the district tributary to the town of Vermilion and the country west of the fourth meridian, between the Battle and the Saskatchewan rivers. Hundreds of homesteads were taken up in this region during the latter part of 1905, the settlers coming in alone and securing claims. Next year the wives and children of most of these men will arrive with large numbers of new homesteaders. The settlers are chiefly English speaking, the immigration coming from the Western States, Ontario and Great Britain. A portion of the Barr colony settlers are in the region and are declared to be making a good success of farming operations.

The town of Vermilion is also a divisional point on the C.N.R. east of Edmonton and the company have erected a twelve stall round house for their use. A water works system has also been installed for the use of the company and an arrangement has been effected whereby water is supplied to citizens. The town site was laid out three months ago on a flat on the banks of the Vermilion about half a mile distant from the stream. All branches of trade are already represented in the town, two licensed hotels are in operation and a third is now being completed. The district affords plenty of timber for fuel, water is abundant and of excellent quality, and the soil is most fertile. The land is rolling and south of Vermilion is hilly. The country is well adapted for mixed farming, and is capable of sustaining a large population.

ALBERTA BALL SEASON OPENED

Lattimer Case Again Delayed by Absence of Stenographer—Ben-nett After Col. Sanders

Calgary, Jan. 26. The Calgary baseball club received a challenge from Lethbridge today to play baseball in Lethbridge tomorrow. The challenge was at once accepted and the baseball team left for the south tonight. Winter baseball is not unusual in Calgary, an interesting match being played here last New Year's day. This is the first time that Calgary has gone away from home in the winter time to play baseball.

When the fourth charge against H. Lattimer, late of Philadelphia, charged with embezzling clients of his company out of $100,000, came up for trial today, Miss Emmerson, stenographer of Lattimer, who was wanted as a witness, was absent. This part of the case was accordingly abandoned for the present.

The city commissioners at a meeting today, discussed three big enterprises. One was the application made on behalf of Ingles now of Edmonton, for a street railway franchise. Certain concessions were offered by the applicants, but were not considered at length. The city is considering the building of a reservoir to ensure a water supply. This will cost $150,000. The commissioners are also considering a trunk sewer which will cost $30,000.

An interesting case will be brought on next week when R. B. Bennett, leader of the Conservatives in Alberta will bring action against Col. Sanders, superintendent of the N. W. M. P. for assault. The case arose out of a case here last fall, when Sanders had Bennett ejected from the court room.

CALGARY EXTENDS ITS BOUNDARIES

Calgary, Jan. 25.—The city of Calgary is pursuing a vigorous policy of extending its boundaries. A conference was held tonight between representatives of Calgary and representatives of Riverdale, a large suburb north of the Bow River, when a basis of amalgamation was agreed upon. The question of amalgamation with Riverdale, a suburb to the south of the city, will be decided in a short time. Negotiations are progressing at present. Residents of Bankview and Hillhurst are also considering the idea of amalgamation.

By a vote of two to one today the citizens decided upon raising $30,000 for the erection of two additional schools. Last year a $70,000 school was erected.

Tomorrow morning a proposition will be put before the council by a representative of Mr. Ingles, for a street railway. He claims to be backed by Montreal and Toronto capitalists.

Extensive preparations are being made to entertain the C. P. R. officials who will visit Calgary on February 1st.

It is reported on good authority that the C. N. R. has bought property in the vicinity of Calgary and are negotiating for a large block of land across the Bow river as a site for a station.

Chief Justice Sifton today granted an order for the extradition of Harry Lattimer, wanted in Philadelphia on charges of stealing $100,000 from the clients of the Provident Investment Co. The case will be appealed.

St. Andrew's Society tonight celebrated Burns' anniversary at a banquet at the Grand Central hotel.

PROSPEROUS VILLAGE

Laughan, Sask.—It is safe to say that not any village between Edmonton and Dauphin has shown such wonderful strides in the short space of time. When one thinks of it this time last year there was only one shack and a little store at this point; now there is a prosperous and thriving village with three general stores, two hardware, furniture store, doctor, druggist, hotel, lumber yard, butcher, barber, jeweller, harness shop, blacksmith, large livery barn, two elevators and a hundred barrel flour mill, in fact everything that is needed in a village, except a bank. When one thinks of it, as above mentioned, that at this point there was practically no business being done twelve months ago one might well say, "Will wonders never cease?"

There have been 200,000 bushels of wheat marketed here already and a good deal more to come in, and the prospects for the coming year are even brighter than for the last. F. Donovan is rushing his fine new store, 30 x 50 feet, to completion as quickly as possible, so as to be ready for the rush of spring business. P. Remple is just commencing a fine building 20x40, with two stories, for pool room and hall, and Mr. Peters, who has purchased the livery barn, will build another fine hotel as soon as weather permits. Merchants and others are looking forward to 1906 with light hearts and happy faces.

MANITOBA MARRIAGE LAW

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 24.—A bill respecting the solemnization of marriages again occupied the attention of the amendments committee of the legislature for a considerable length of time. When the clauses of the bill came up for consideration the Attorney General pointed out that according to the phraseology of clause two there was no provision made to give authority to perform marriages to ordained professors in colleges or other ministers, who although without pastoral charges, were actively engaged in the work of the church. "In fact," declared Mr. Campbell "I don't know whether the archbishop of St. Boniface or the Archbishop of Ruperts Land could perform a marriage ceremony if the bill went through in its present form."

FIRE IN A SANITARIUM
New York, Jan. 25.—A dozen patients in Alston's sanitarium, on Sixty-first street, some of whom had recently undergone surgical operations, were carried down from the top floor of the sanitarium to escape from a fire which broke out there. Some fainting from pain and fright during their removal and disastrous results are feared.

PROTECT THE PUBLIC

The by-law requiring drivers to tie horses left standing on the streets should be rigidly enforced. Run-aways are of almost daily occurrence, a considerable number of which could doubtless be prevented if the horses were securely fastened when left standing. Usually the consequences of the driver's negligence are limited to himself and horse, but there is no assurance that this rule will always hold and the public should be safeguarded by the strict enforcement of the law. This is all the more urgent at the present time because a large number of automobiles are being brought into the city and the prospect is for a corresponding increase in the number of run away horses.

Incidentally the city council might take into consideration the speed at which automobiles are driven along the streets, and pass the necessary legislation to keep this speed within reasonable limits. While it is doubtless pleasurable to shoot through space scattering chickens and children with a bugle-blast and leaving only a trailing odor of gasoline along the deserted streets, and while there may be times when the owner or chauffeur is in a legitimate hurry the pleasure or eagerness of a small class is of less consequence than the public safety. A by-law regulating the speed of horseless vehicles must be brought into operation soon and the sooner the easier and better for all concerned.

CANADIAN CONSERVATIVES AND THE BRITISH ELECTIONS

That the high tariff journals of Canada take the results of the British elections seriously to heart is amply testified by the volume and variety of the explanatory theories they are endeavoring to fit onto the uncompromising fact of the great anti-protection declaration of the British electorate. Had these explanations been advanced a month since as possible weaknesses in the Unionist cause, they had come with better grace and deserved a better reception. But the journals which are now so busy coming them were equally busy a month since assuring us that the Balfour Government would be sustained, not on its general record, not on its general policy, not on specific instances of beneficial administration, nor on definite proposals for advance legislation, but distinctly and all but exclusively on the merits of Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal proposals. Nor are the same journals less emphatic today in declaring that Mr. Chamberlain's victory in Birmingham was due to his tariff policy than in protesting that the Unionist defeat in the country at large was not due to the same tariff policy.

The facts of the case appear to be that the country was heartily tired of the Balfour Administration, and that the Chamberlain proposals added the needed straw which broke the back of the Government. On no other supposition can the overwhelming victory of the Liberals be explained. However unsatisfactory the general record of the Balfour Government may have been, nothing less than the popular conviction that the general welfare of the country was in danger could have created the reversion of public sentiment evidenced in the election returns. The British elector is not charged with a disposition to change his political allegiance without good reason, and the only apparent reason which could by any stretch of imagination be considered sufficient to cause the radical change in allegiance indicated by the results of the late contest is that the British public was very generally and very strongly apprehensive of the results of Mr. Chamberlain's fiscal policy. Nor is the fact that the Honorable Gentleman was triumphantly returned in Birmingham any refutation of this view. With the prestige which attaches to wealth, the influence which belongs to a large employer of labor, the distinction of having administered one of the most important departments of the Government and the reputation of dominating the policy of a great and lately triumphant party, his defeat by any candidate in the city with which he has been identified for years would have been unreasonable to expect, and his defeat at the hands of an opponent lower than cabinet rank would have been the political marvel of a generation. While the country at large rejected his fiscal proposals his constituents in Birmingham followed the quite customary habit of choosing poststrong man with a doubtful policy, rather than a less notable man with a tried and more reliable policy.

The high protectionists of Canada have received a rude though possibly unintended jolt from the hands of the British elector. It was the hope of the Canadian manufacturers that they would be able to point the Canadian consumer to Great Britain as an example of a country in which free trade had been tried and found wanting, and in which protection had been found the only means of industrial and commercial salvation. That the strength of this example was relied upon as an effective argument in waging the Canadian campaign for a higher tariff has been frequently and undeniably shown by the efforts already made by the high tariff journals of this country to identify the cause of Chamberlainism in Great Britain with the cause of Conservatism in Canada. And how severely the repulse of Chamberlainism is felt by Canadian Conservatism is quite as undeniably shown by the efforts of these same journals to explain that repulse on other grounds than the issue of the campaign.

EDMONTON'S NEW

FLOUR MILL

Interesting Facts About the Mill and Plant of one of the City's New Industries

The new mill of the Alberta Milling Company, which started work on Thursday is a model of completeness and mechanical ingenuity in the milling line and furnishes Edmonton with a flour milling plant which, while not the largest in Western Canada, is one of the most modern in its mechanical appliances, in the entire Dominion.

The mill building proper is a four storey structure 34 by 55 feet, attached to which is a boiler house and engine room of brick, 42x56 feet, in which the power for the operation of the plant is generated.

The machinery is of the Nordyke & Marmon, all of which, except the dust-collectors, was supplied from their factory at Indianapolis.

Following the wheat from the farm-ra wagon to the sack the casual observer will find much to admire in the mechanical contrivances adopted at the new mill.

From the bin to the mill the grain passes first to the No. 1 scourer, where it is cleaned, then to the separator, where the grain is classified as to size and weight, then to the tempering bin, and after this to the second scourer, which completes what might be called the preparatory process, after which it is ready for the rolls.

The tempering bin is a new departure in roller milling, not yet adopted by many of the western mills. Its purpose is to steam and dampen the grain so that when it goes to the rolls, the bran will scale off clean from the kernel of wheat, making an absolutely clean grade of wheat.

From the second scouring, in which the wheat is furnished perfectly clean, the grain goes to a heater, where it is brought up to what is considered the proper temperature for milling, and from there to the first break on the primary rolls, after which it is sifted and divided by half a dozen spouts and goes in as many different directions to screens, rolls, centrifugals and sifters and through the various processes which no one but a mill man could follow, coming out finally in the classifying bins, where it is ready for sacking.

The store-house in which the flour is sacked and stored is a two-storey building 25 by 100 feet, to which there is shortly to be added an addition bringing it to 25 by 200 feet.

In the power house there are two Goldie & McCullough boilers of 125 h.p. each, a Jerome Wheelock engine of 200 horse power and a 35 horse power engine for developing electricity for lighting purposes.

There are two elevators connected with the mill, one of 45,000 bushels capacity and the other of 30,000 bushels.

The total capacity of the plant is 300 barrels of flour every 24 hours. During the past few months the company has been buying grain along the line of the Canadian Northern in cars and flat warehouses, but proposes in the early spring to commence the construction of a line of elevators situated at the most promising grain centres, both to the east and south, in which to gather their share of the crop. This part of the season's program has not been completed and the exact locations of the elevators are not yet known.

The mill will give employment to twenty men all the year round, and will soon become recognized as one of Edmonton's leading industries. The entire subscribed capital is furnished by Edmonton men.

DISCUSSED BRAND REGULATIONS

Calgary, Jan. 24.—Hon. W. T. Finlay Minister and Geo. Harcourt, Deputy Minister of Agriculture represented Alberta and J. C. Honeyman, Deputy Minister, represented Saskatchewan in a conference upon the question of brands in the two provinces. A large number of stockmen were present. Matthews, secretary of the Western Stock Growers Association that "Separate records be kept in each province with a neutral zone of a hundred miles in which brands should be recorded in both provinces."

NEW MINISTER NOT YET CHOSEN
Ottawa, Jan. 26.—There will be no successor chosen to Hon. R. Prefontaine until a full meeting of the cabinet is held. This means that it will take a week or ten days before the position is filled. However, it is generally understood that Brodeur goes to the Marine and Fisheries and that Templeton will take Brodeur's place.

MARK TWAIN IN AN AFTER DINNER SPEECH

said, "be good and you will be lonesome." The great humorist evidently overlooked the fact that there are nothing but good people here, and they are never lonesome. Our restaurant is always bright and cheery and homelike, and the delicious meals that are served and the dainty tit-bits that tickle the palate make the place that is sought out by epicure and gourmet.

A SURVIVOR'S STORY.

Seventeen picked up by the To-pika, six who reached Cape Beale nine at Darling Island, and four on Turret Island.

FOUND ON TROUT ISLAND.

Victoria, Jan. 27.—The steamer Shamrock arrived last night with three survivors: F. Hincok, the chief cook; Max Stranlar, fireman; and George Long, fireman. They were picked up by Trout Island by Charlie Ross, an Indian policeman, of Alberni.
Another survivor is living on the Island but is lost in the bush. Two bodies were found on the island
and taken on board.

Of the nine who landed on Turret
Island at midnight on Wednesday five were crazy before morning, and jumped into the water.

One started out for food and had not returned when the remaining men were taken on board
the launch Shamrock of Victoria,
after being found by Indians.

HOCKEY

It will be tall hockey from the turn-loose at the rink on Monday night when the mountaineers and the play-men meet in combat to defend the honor of two provinces, and spectators will be given a chance for the first time in history to see which province has the ablest exponents of the national game, British Columbia or our own Alberta. It will be a straight case of province against province, each team representing the best in its own country, and the winner will be entitled and qualified to look wider afield for new honors when the battle is over.

To support the hockey interests of the fair province in the games next week against the crack champion team from the mountain province, Edmonton will have on the ice one of the finest selection of puck chasers that could be found on the plains.

The aggregation that will wear the green and white in the battle with the Roseland boys next week will in all probability be the same as that which carried the Edmonton colors to victory in the struggle for the Peterson cup with Strathcona this month.
And there is not a man in the bunch that has not a hockey record of some kind behind his name.

Even Harold Edward Grady, he of the sixteen summers, and pretty near as many winters that he can remember of, has a record to assist him in his celebrated performance of stopping hot ones. Except for a few minor engagements with his school teacher, and a brief respite in the summer season, Harold has spent his sixteen summers in goal. It was down in the high wind country around McLeod that he turned out, when he played the stone wall with a fast little bunch of celebrated juveniles from the horse country. Last fall he came to Edmonton to attend Alberta college, but the Edmonton gang saw him coming afar off, and as fast as they could get a sweater onto him
he appeared under Edmonton colors.
Harold has all the virtues of a goal keeper, and none of the bad features, except youth—which is not incurable.
He is there with the goods from draw to time and has a head on him like a general.

Willie Sanford, the man at point,
is a steady, reliable chap. He hails from Eastern Ontario, where he played with several teams previous to coming to Edmonton three years ago. Willie comes from a family of born hockey players, and he has never failed to be a strong man on the Thistle lineup. This season especially Will has been playing a great game, and he is always on hand to meet the puck
when it comes down on a long lift
from the other end of the ice.

The heavy-weight man of the team is Lane at cover point. This is his first season with the Thistles, and he is of Winnipeg and Moose Jaw fame.
His particular delight is in bumping
his hard against some fast forward man as he comes down the ice, and spoiling good combination plays. He is a mighty hard man to get past, and he usually succeeds in inspiring fear in the hearts of day forward line that faces him.

The same is about true of Arthur Powers, the big 195-pound chap who has been playing cover with the This-
les. "Rockie," as the boys call him,
was brought up to the game in Quebec,
and anybody who knows anything about eastern hockey affairs, will remember that Arthur captained the fast seven from the old historic city last winter. Not only is he a heavy-weight but he plays a great game all over the ice, and chases the puck with untiring energy.

Harold Deaton, who has captained
the Thistles so far this season, came from Ontario a year or so ago, where he figured on the line-up of the Galt team and other fast teams. He also went to Ottawa with the Brandon seven two years ago. He has played rover his season, and for the last few games has faced off the puck at centre. He shows up best at centre, getting the rubber invariably from the face-off.

Arnold Johnston, the chain-lightning man of the team, is a home player.
He was taught to play the game right here in Edmonton and is the fastest man on skates in Alberta. He is very light, but plays all around the big fellows, and is a star on the right wing.
